

2009 Holiday Tech Drive

A few weeks ago, I heard a story on the radio of a guy that was robbed. In retrospect, he was thankful for three reasons: first, because though they stole his money they didn't take his life. Though he no longer had the money, at least he had been blessed in the first place, and though he lost everything he owned, at least it wasn't much.

In hearing that, I realized how much more QuikSupport has to give.

We are donating our time, knowledge, and resources during the holidays, and you can help too! After you have unwrapped all those new toys, or maybe even before, consider this.

If you have been blessed with extra Cell phones, Laptops, Desktops, TVs or other computers you don't need, donate them. Then, in kind, we will donate our resources to fix them and help someone in need.
